

ESSENTIAL CIVIL WAR CURRICULUM

Michael Burns (U.S. Air Force) is a Wing Historian at Mountain Home Air Force Base, Idaho. He received his Ph.D. in History at TCU in Fort Worth, Texas, in May 2018. He is currently completing a book manuscript that examines the environmental history of the Second Bull Run Campaign and Civil War Armies. He previously published an article that examines John Pope's military policies toward the Dakotas during the Civil War in the Great Plains Quarterly and recently authored a book chapter on the role of water and waterways during Second Bull Run. He is also the author of two additional articles, including one in the Virginia Magazine of History and Biography, and of two forthcoming book chapters. While completing his graduate work, he worked for nine years as a seasonal interpretive ranger at Manassas National Battlefield Park.
